Ms. Advice Column!

Dear Ms. Advice,
My friends have been leaving me out all the time. They never include me in the conversation or acknowledge me. How do I deal with this?

~Anonymous

Dear Anonymous,
I've gone through this multiple times. When a 'friend' excludes you, they aren't really your friend. I don't think you should worry too much about them. Make some new friends! Sometimes it's good to take a break from people that aren't really that kind.

~Ms. Advice

Are you really struggling with something and need advice? Ask Ms. Advice questions! Just tell Ms. Hogan and she will tell Ms. Advice!!

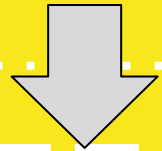

Day in a life of Vivian Potts!!

- Favorite color -yellow
- Favorite animal -horses
- Favorite food-cheese

Vivian is 12 years old and in the morning they look for their friends at breakfast. After school they go to the Addams family rehearsals. After all that stuff they go home to watch tv, hang out with their dog, eat dinner, and then they go to bed. They are really fruity. Also, they go to horseback riding. They go to Windrush farm in North Andover. Also, their family owns a farm called Seaveiw farm in rockport. They also can't do a cartwheel!

If I could rearrange the alphabet, I'd put 'U' and 'I' together.

Made by Supergiant Games, Hades is a rogue like where you play as Zagreus prince of the underworld as you try to escape Hades. The game features an awesome art style which shows off the character's personalities. There is a ton of funny interactions and the battle mechanics are incredibly smooth. Hades has a nice balance between dialogue and battling your way through the many levels of the underworld (most dialogue being optional). This makes it so it's fast paced witty and enjoyable. If you're a fan of the Greek gods and lore a lot of legends and gods are heavily incorporated into the game with the majority of characters being from Greek mythology. The game also includes positive representation of the LGBTQ+ community as well. So it's an all around great play 9/10. I have poured a scary amount of hours into this.

Made by Insomniac Games, Spider-Man is a wicked game where you play as your friendly neighborhood Spider-Man as he stops threats from villains like Kingpin, Green Goblin, Doc Oc, Electro and many more fan favorites. The game's graphics are incredible they're super realistic and the plot is attention grabbing. (I refuse to spoil anything) The game makes great use of Spider-Man's abilities by putting them in challenges seamless combat and travel. New York is easy to traverse by web slinging and the views are incredible. As you go through the game you also collect J. Jonah Jameson tapes which are usually funny and worth a listen. Among other things you can collect there's backpacks which contain references and important items to Spider-Man and new costumes for Spidey. The many easter eggs in the game are also a bonus if you enjoy other movies and games under Marvel. I love this game and it's worth getting 100% completion, 10/10

Made by Nintendo, Pikmin 4 is the fourth game in the Pikmin series obviously. In this game you play as a tiny alien whose crew has gotten scattered across the foreign planet of Earth in a crash. Your rescue crew originally came to rescue another stranded alien but now it seems you'll have to rescue yourself before you can get to captain Olimar. When you arrive you find this small strange creatures called pikmin that help you on your journey. The world is well rendered and gorgeous everything has texture and looks beautiful. I'm particularly fond of the water graphics. The battle and exploration system is wicked fun you send your pikmin to battle monsters and collect items to fuel your ship. You walk around with a group of pikmin as you battle bosses and discover new areas with your crew of aliens at base camp. A new thing in this game is the additions of Oatchi your loyal pup and Dandori battles. This game is so cool and the pikmin are so cute! 9/10

The secret lava pit

In the dark basement of JGW there is a secret lava pit, boiling hot with magma. Grace was investigating the school. She decided to go into the basement. Grace needed to find where the secret lava pit was. She stepped down the basement stairs gingerly. The rock that was left on the stairs by the Sink Monster made Grace trip and fall down the stairs. She screamed for help but she was alone.

The halloween of 2023

JGW middle school was hosting an halloween costume event. It was in the Haverhill newspaper. Mackenzie was so excited for the costume event. She prepared her costume, which was Eevee. When it was finally the halloween costume event, Mackenzie went to school in her Eevee costume. There was someone in an ghostface costume. Masks aren't allowed, which confused Mackenzie. The ghostface person had a mask, and an weapon.

Weekly Song Recommendation

Someone Like You - Klass

She gets up early in the morning

And grabs a coffee to go

She does her makeup in the backseat of her best friend's car

And makes her drive real slow

And all their friends say she doesn't wanna be alone

But all she does is spend the whole day on her phone

And there's no way she's gonna meet someone like you
